

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:

Saturday, November 8, 1873.

PAY YOUR TAXES.—One little whisper in the ear of delinquents: Go to the Horatio Siloam Mason, your county's gifted Treasurer, and pay into his hands the amount of taxes due from you to the State and county. Do not procrastinate. You need not be told of what it is that Procrastination is the specially noted kleptomaniac. Go at once to the genial Horatio and rid yourself of this customary legal obligation. Time wastes brief; and if these delays of yours find you sauntering with ill-taken leisure through the groves of Procrastination after the 17th inst., you will be mulcted in the forfeiture of 15 per cent. upon the amount of your assessment. Be warned in time. Don't persuade yourself that the tide of time or the demands of the tax gatherer can be delayed or evaded. You must put up or be shut up; and you will find it for your comfort and your soul's repose if you proceed to liquidate this obligation before there shall come a time, when, standing at midnight at the tail end of a string of your brother delinquents who have been shut out and distanced, the cock crows salutation to the morn of the 18th, and yourself, standing shivering in the cold and with the deadly grasp of that additional fifteen per cent. creeping over you, you groan in your agony and confess, while the great beads of sweat are forming in beads at the drooping end of your fast congealing nose that the Appeal gave you a solemn warning while you loafed about and grinned at it and passed it by unheeding.

Those who were within doors where pendant objects like lamps and gas fixtures were hanging, testify to feeling a shock of earthquake last night about twenty minutes to 7 o'clock. We who were out of the influence of such tremors, felt nothing of the kind; but there being several others than the Dashaways to back this assertion of a shudder of mother earth's broad shoulders, we are inclined to believe that there may have been a slight squirm in the direction indicated, and that it was not altogether an attack of the jim-jams that suggested the idea. We trust there may be, as a result of these terrestrial disturbances, enough shaking of the atmosphere to give us some rain clouds and some copious droppings therefrom.

A BIG MULE WAGON which was just about starting for Walker River from Slater's hay yard yesterday morning suddenly collapsed and dumped its cargo of flour and boxes and sacks and bales upon the ground, much to the disgust of the bold teamster in whose charge it was, and he, having done his peremptory wrench order out of chaos, and being interrupted in the midst of his labors by a kicking mule, after making some attempts at the pacification of that unruly beast finally damned him to eternal perdition and invited him to "kick away." This last was the only suggestion the intractable beast was minded to heed—and he launched out with as willing a pair of heels as ever gave effectiveness to the ungraceful act of recalcitrance.

FOSTER, FREEMAN & Co. have just been receiving a lot of Beehive Hams—a mighty toothsome brand of smoked swine's flesh; also an assortment of what are known as American Club Fish—a delicious cross between a white fish and a sardine; also German Herrings, Devilled Hams, Pate-de-foie-gras, and many other descriptions of potted meats. These should be inspected together with other features of F. F. & Co.'s stock.

A cow belonging to Mr. James Duffy was killed yesterday on that fenced up part of the Elliott flume side-track which lies between Blothens' and the Chinaman's garden. More's the pity from the fact that she was in that interesting condition in which cows of the more impressive variety are like to be found.

JAMES DEALY's stock and store of singing birds is now quite a menagerie in its way. Amongst the later additions are many choice young mocking birds, capital singers and very healthful and lively.

COMMISSIONED.—Governor Bradley has commissioned Robert C. Lund of St. George, Utah, a Commissioner of Deeds; and Mr. H. B. Cossitt of Reno a Notary Public.

A TINSMITH, of first-rate qualifications, is in charge of the manufacturing department of Judd & Co.'s hardware, tinware establishment. His name is J. C. Boice.

MR. ANGUS McLEOD, of Mason's Valley, was in town yesterday. He was reported gone to Virginia or somewhere else before we got a chance to interview him.

THERE were two funerals passed through Carson street yesterday—one of a little French child and the other that of a Chinaman.

MR. W. B. BUTTS, of whose serious sickness we made mention yesterday is better, we are very glad to hear.

THE United States District Court will hold a session to-day—Hon. E. W. Hillier presiding.

THE DASHWAYS will hold a meeting this evening at the Sheriff's office at 8 o'clock. We are much pleased to learn that this sensible temperance movement is proving very popular with all kinds and conditions of our young men. There is no use in sermonizing or persuading—no use for us to attempt those things, we mean—but there is no doubt that some of our fellows are just sailing close enough to "port" to need to take a reef in their guzzling-gear. It is a good thing, they will find, to give their coppers a chance to cool off and rest, ready for the holidays or other trying season, when, if they must drink, let them be prepared with all the inside lining that a good long, laying-off spell will ensure them. It may be too, that here and there is a man, young, old, or middle aged, who will, when he gets all the old high wines out of him, come to the wise conclusion that the best thing he can do is to part company with John Barleycorn, for keeps. We should like to see this prove to be a real temperance movement—a movement which will prove to be temperate and reasonable in all its aims and intentions; for if it is, it will attract and not repel many of that sensitive sort of people who don't like to be coerced into leaving off their cups, and who have a natural shyness for the severe requirements of the Good Templars and like societies, but who, nevertheless, would rather like to join hands with some of their companions and swear off, for a while, if not for all time—which latter is the better way, of course.

OF A PAINFUL ACCIDENT which occurred yesterday to one of our Douglas county neighbors the Gold Hill News of last evening says: "About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, as Mr. James H. Swain, of Carson Valley, was coming down from the Divide with a heavy load of hay, drawn by four horses, the brake gave way, precipitating the wagon upon the wheel horses, which were unable to sustain the immense pressure from behind. The four horses took fright immediately and ran down the hill in the vicinity of the Imperial works at lightning speed. When rounding the sharp curve at Bullion ravine Mr. Swain was precipitated to the ground with great violence, alighting upon his head. The team dashed on and upset the wagon in front of the residence of the Hon. Sam Owens converting it into a complete wreck. Mr. Swain was picked up in an insensible condition and carried to a house near by. An examination into the nature of his injuries, made by Dr. Manson, discovered the fact that a fracture of his right upper jaw had been sustained, extending transversely from the eye to the mouth. There was an ugly cut over his right eye, and his sides and back were badly bruised. His brother-in-law, W. H. Cary, came up from Carson this morning to render whatever assistance the injured man might require. We learn that the sufferer was quite comfortable this morning."

QUICKLY but steadily, the big machine shop of the V. & T. Company is receiving its complement of handsome machinery. The great lathe, the screw and bolt machines, the hydraulic wheel adjuster and the lathes have already been mentioned. Within a few days past they have set up the wheel-boring machine and a thing that we take to be a sort of heavy punch. The big planing machine is getting put into place; and yesterday, in the smithy, we noticed a gang of workmen putting up the steam-hammer. Along on the north side of the shop a convenient work bench and set of tool drawers has been put up since we were in there last; and the cylinder of the Corliss engine has been natively covered with a coating of black walnut, studded all over with silver headed nails like a circusman's cylinder. It must be they are pretty much ready to invite the machinists to come and occupy this commodious shop; but we asked no irrelevant questions of the busy people we saw at work there yesterday and the consequence was they didn't tell us any gratuitous lies.

RAILROAD ITEMS.—Conductor Mart Follet got pretty severely bruised about the head and face day before yesterday while on top of a box car. He had got upon the car to set up a brake, and while going under the flume near Parker's mill—just the other side of Washoe—and walking toward the rear end of his train with his back to the flume, he got struck by the flume on the back of his head and knocked flat down upon the roof of the car. Lucky to get off with an unbroken neck, he had a pretty severe bruising about the nose and lips, and was laid up, with a head on him, yesterday. We are glad to hear that he will be all right in a day or two. "The Dayton," the second and last of the engines built by the C. P. Company for this road arrived here yesterday. She is a fine machine, a companion to the Columbus. We saw her yesterday, on the ways, at the new round house where some little adjusting of her wheels and things was going on.

We regretted to hear last night that Mrs. Victor Muller was quite seriously sick, or, rather that her illness, with which she has for some time been afflicted, took a turn for the worse last evening. Hope for better news to-day.

STILL our beautiful, treacherous, fever-breeding weather continues. There is a pressing need of rain for all purposes.

THE District Court for Ormsby county meets to-day.

THE LATEST NEWS.

The bricklayers in New York are still on a strike. The Central Council of the Union Order of American bricklayers met on Thursday night in secret session. It was stated that a compromise was suggested, that employers should only deduct twenty-five cents instead of fifty cents from a day's pay.—Two iron works in South St. Louis have stopped, throwing about 200 men out of employment. The Vulcan Iron Works stopped two of their three furnaces and closed their rolling mill. They discharged about 400 men. Other works also stopped some of their furnaces or discharged a part of their employees, and all have reduced wages twenty per cent. Many manufacturing establishments in the city have materially reduced their working force, but not cut down wages.

THE SUNDAY LAW anti gaming case came up for a hearing on habeas corpus yesterday. Mr. Ellis appearing for the defendant and District Attorney Patterson for the people. The Court heard the arguments of Counsel and took the matter under advisement.
